

100006 JONES, Sir William

PERRY, John R. Sir William Jones and the migration of the idea of Iran to India. The contest for rule in eighteenth-century Iran. Ed. Charles Melville. London: Tauris, 2022, (Idea of Iran, 11), pp. 215-226. Argues that Iranian literati and bureaucrats migrated to India after the collapse of the Safavids, and that the arrival of the English in India gave them their first encounter with Persian. In this the role of Sir William Jones is emphasized.
