III. OBITUARY NOTICES.

Dr. G. W. Leitner.

We regret to have to record the death of Dr. Leitner, who was for thirty-eight years a member of the Royal Asiatic Society. The son of a physician, he was born at Budapest in 1840, but removed in 1847 to Turkey, where his father had established a practice. His school education was completed at the Malta Protestant College. In 1855, when still a mere lad, he gained, by competitive examination, the post of "First Class Interpreter" to the British forces at Shumla, during the last eight months of the Crimean War. After the conclusion of the war, he attended a Muhammadan Theological School at Constantinople. In 1858 he came to England, and matriculated as a student at King's College, London. At that institution he was soon afterwards appointed lecturer in Arabic, Turkish, and modern Greek, and in 1861 he succeeded the Rev. J. J. S. Perowne, now Bishop of Worcester, as Professor of Arabic and
