1304 FELDMAN SAMET, Hadar. 'Allahı Zikr Edilim' (Let us do zikr for Allah): the Sabbatian appropriation of the Sufi practice of zikr as religious renewal.
Zutot: Perspectives on Jewish Culture, 16 i (2019)
pp. 43-53. "Introduces the idea of religious renewal as it was manifested in the ritual practices of the Sabbatian Ma'aminim of Salonica - followers of Shabbtai Tzvi who converted from Judaism to Islam during the 1680s, in the footsteps of their Messiah. The religious renewal of the Ma'aminim is demonstrated by the appropriation of the Sufi-Muslim practice, known as zikr, as part of their ritual singing."
