Islām and Genesis 17: a study in scriptural intertextuality. Religions - Open Access Theology Journal, 9 x (2018) "I examine three terms: islām, imān, and dīm, showing that the meaning of these words in the Qur'ān can be deciphered by reliance on context of usage and intertextuality. To this end, I refer to several verses of the Qur'ān as well as of the Hebrew Bible and Talmudic literature". 10- page article; online publication without page- numbering. Erratum in vol. 9 xii (2018).
