

THE
HISTORY OF THE POPES,
FROM THE CLOSE OF THE MIDDLE AGES.

DRAWN FROM THE SECRET ARCHIVES OF THE VATICAN AND OTHER
ORIGINAL SOURCES.

FROM THE GERMAN OF
DR. LUDWIG PASTOR,

PROFESSOR OF HISTORY IN THE UNIVERSITY OF INNSBRUCK, AND
DIRECTOR OF THE AUSTRIAN HISTORICAL INSTITUTE IN ROME.

EDITED BY
RALPH FRANCIS KERR
OF THE LONDON ORATORY.

FOURTH EDITION

VOLUME X.

LONDON
KEGAN PAUL, TRENCH, TRUBNER & CO., LTD.
BROADWAY HOUSE, 68-74 CARTER LANE, E.C.4.

1938

HISTORY OF THE POPES.

VOL. X.

CONTENTS OF VOLUME X.*

	PAGE
Table of Contents	vii
List of Unpublished Documents in Appendix	xxxii
CLEMENT VII., 1523-1534.
Clement VII. in exile at Orvieto and Viterbo. The Imperialists leave Rome. Disaster to the French army in Naples. The weakness of the Pope's diplomacy. His return to Rome	1-31
Reconciliation of the Emperor and the Pope. The treaties of Barcelona and Cambrai	32-67
The meeting of Clement VII. and Charles V. at Bologna. The last Imperial Coronation. Restoration of the Medicean rule in Florence	68-105
The religious divisions in Germany	106-140
Negotiations as to the Council, to the Pacification of Nuremberg, 1532	141-169
Clement VII.'s efforts to protect Christendom from the Turks	170-203
Clement the Seventh's second meeting with the Emperor at Bologna. The Conciliar question in the years 1532-1533. The Pope and Francis I. at Marseilles. The marriage of Catherine de' Medici	204-237
The divorce of Henry VIII. and the English Schism	238-287

* For Bibliography see Volume VII.

	PAGE
The Protestant revolt in Scandinavia and Switzerland.
Heretical movements among the Latin Races	288-315
The close of the Pontificate of Clement VII. His position towards Literature and Art	316-363
Clement VII. and the internal affairs of the Church. His attitude towards the questions of the Council and Reform	364-387
The beginnings of the Catholic Reformation. The Oratory of the Divine Love. Gaetano di Tiene and Carafa	388-423
Gian Matteo Giberti. The Somaschi and the Barnabites	424-453
Reform of the older Orders. The Capuchins	454-477
Appendix of Unpublished Documents	479-510
Index of Names	511

TABLE OF CONTENTS OF VOLUME X.*

CHAPTER I.

CLEMENT VII. IN EXILE AT ORVIETO AND VITERBO. — THE IMPERIALISTS LEAVE ROME. — DISASTER TO THE FRENCH ARMY IN NAPLES. — THE WEAKNESS OF THE POPE'S DIPLOMACY.—HIS RETURN TO ROME.

A. D.		PAGE
1527	Deplorable situation of the Pope at Orvieto (December)	1
	And of the Cardinals	2
	Bull relating to graces bestowed during the captivity (December 18th)	3
	Poverty of the court at Orvieto.	3
	Clement VII. receives congratulations on his deliverance	4
	He is compared to the Popes of the infant Church, but still represents a mighty power	5
	Eager competition to obtain his patronage. Correspondence with the Emperor (January 1528)	5
	Who as early as December proposes a formal alliance	6
	Clement unwilling to give pledges to the League or to the Emperor; writes to Francis I. (December 14th)	6
	And to Henry VIII. and others, describing his afflictions	7
1528	The Pope urged to join the League (January)	7
	Which makes tempting promises; but Clement refuses a decided answer, as he fears the Emperor.	8
	Other motives for not trusting the League.	9
	The Papal envoys arrive in Paris (January) and appeal to Francis to put pressure on Venice and Ferrara	10

* Unpublished documents are marked by an asterisk (*); documents to be published in "Acta Pontificum Romanorum" are designated by two asterisks ().

A.D.		PAGE
1528	Mission of Pucci to Spain—his instructions	11
	Lautrec leaves Bologna on the 10th of January	11
	And enters the kingdom of Naples	12
	The Imperialists recognize their peril	12
	Their army, ravaged by the plague, leave Rome, rendering the neighbourhood like a wilderness	13
	A rabble under the Abbot of Farfa enter the city (February 17th)	14
	Efforts of the Pope to mitigate the distress	14
	Deputation to invite the Pope to return to Rome	15
	The officials of the Curia return (end of April)	15
	Harassing position of Clement VII.	16
	Re-appearance of Brandano (March); his prophecies	16
	Operations of Lautrec in Naples	17
	The Imperial fleet destroyed by Doria (April 28th)	17
	Alarm in Rome and anxiety of the Pope	18
	Famine in Orvieto	18
	Clement VII. moves to Viterbo (June 1st). Cardinal Farnese appointed Legate in Rome (June 8th)	19
	Unsuccessful attempt of the French fleet to take Civita Vecchia	20
	Provocation given by Venice to the Pope	20
	Who complains to Contarini	21
	His displeasure also with Francis I.	21
	Arrogance of the French and firmness of the Papal representative, who insists on the surrender of Ravenna and Cervia	22
	The scene of war in Naples—great distress in the city	23
	Naples set free by sea (end of July), and Genoa is lost to France (September 12th)	24
	Death of Lautrec (August 15th) and disorderly retreat of the French army from Naples (August 29th)	25
	Complete triumph of the Emperor, to whom Clement VII. determines (September) to make approaches Assurances of Orange to the Pope (September 18th)	26
	Who decides to return to Rome in spite of Contarini. Attempts of Francis I. to thwart the understanding between the Pope and the Emperor	27
	Clement VII. leaves Viterbo on the 5th of October and the following evening enters Rome	28
	Horrifying picture of the misery of the city	29
	The Pope orders all Cardinals to return (October 14th) and writes to Charles V. (October 24th)	29
		30

CHAPTER II.

RECONCILIATION OF THE EMPEROR AND THE POPE.—THE TREATIES OF BARCELONA AND CAMBRAI.

A.D.		PAGE
1528	Care of the Pope to restore order in Rome	32
	Wretched plight of the inhabitants—lack of church ornaments	33
	Quiñones nominated to the Cardinalate	33
	Clement VII. between the League and the Emperor	34
	Quiñones arrives in Rome (December 30th)	35
1529	Interview of Contarini with the Pope (January 4th)	35
	His suggestions	36
	Reply of Clement VII.	37
	The Pope sends Quinoñes and Schönberg to negotiate at Naples (January)	38
	Illness of the Pope (January 8th)—Ippolito de' Medici created Cardinal (January 10th)	39
	Critical condition of the Pope; dismay in Rome	40
	Anxiety of the Cardinals as to the freedom of the conclave	41
	Opinion of Mai, the Imperial envoy	41
	The Cardinals kept as hostages in Naples are set free	42
	The Pope recovers	43
	But on February the 18th has another attack; his alarm at report of the Emperor's descent upon Italy	43
	The Pope, the occasion of a diplomatic struggle between the League and the Emperor	44
	Giberti with the Pope. Anger of Mai	45
	Report of da Burgo to Ferdinand I. (March 2nd)	45
	Clement insists on his duty of remaining neutral	46
	Efforts of both parties to gain the Pope, who has a relapse brought on by excitement	47
	Restoration of Ostia and Civita Vecchia (March)	47
	Promises of the Imperialists concerning Florence, Cervia, and Ravenna; but Clement still hesitates	48
	Report of Cardinal Trivulzio (April 9th), who is mistaken	49
	Clement VII. makes up his mind	49
	And appoints a new Nuncio to the Imperial court	50
	The League seems deliberately to drive the Pope towards their adversary	51
	Giberti leaves Rome (April 26th)	52
	The Pope's attitude influenced by Florentine affairs	52
	State of things in Florence; everything done there to exasperate Clement	53

A.D.		PAGE
1529	Anger of the Pope ; his conversation with the English envoy and with Contarini	54
	He writes to the Emperor on May the 7th and sends as Nuncio, Girolamo da Schio. Reports of Mai and da Burgo (May).	55
	Schio arrives in Spain on the 30th of May and concludes with Charles V. the treaty of Barcelona (June 29th)	56
	Terms of the alliance between the Pope and the Emperor	57
	The conditions are favourable to the Pope	57
	The friendship of Clement a necessity to Charles V.	58
	The treaty accelerates peace negotiations between Francis I. and the Emperor	58
	The Archduchess Margaret and Louisa of Savoy	59
	Conclude the treaty of Cambrai (August 5th)	60
	Its terms disadvantageous to Francis I.	60
	The Pope rejects all the offers of the League (June 17th)	61
	Schönberg and Salviati at Cambrai	61
	The treaty of Barcelona made known in Rome on the 15th of July. On the following day, Papal decision in the matter of divorce of Henry VIII	62
	Envoys from the Emperor have audience with the Pope in bed	63
	Rejoicings in Rome at the conclusion of peace (August 1st)	63
	Negotiations concerning Florence	64
	The Abbot of Farfa ; his capture of Quinoñes (August)	65
	Agreement on the question of the subjection of Florence and Perugia	66
	Gattinara created Cardinal (August 13th)	66

CHAPTER III.

THE MEETING OF CLEMENT VII. AND CHARLES V. AT BOLOGNA.—THE LAST IMPERIAL CORONATION.—RESTORATION OF THE MEDI-
CEAN RULE IN FLORENCE.

1529	On August the 12th Charles V. lands at Genoa. The Pope sends his nephew and three Cardinals to meet him	68
	On account of the Turks, Charles obliged to act with caution towards Venice ; his rude treatment of the Florentine envoys	69

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

xi

A.D.		PAGE
1529	Expedition against Perugia ; its capitulation on September the 10th	70
	Cardinal del Monte takes possession in the Pope's name (September 11th)	70
	The Imperialist army advances on Florence	71
	And arrives before the city on October the 24th	72
	The Florentines prepare to fight to the death	72
	Michael Angelo, overseer of the fortifications	73
	Popular excitement fanned by the Dominican preachers	73
	Gibes against the Pope. Hatred of the Medici	73
	Request of Charles to be crowned at Bologna	74
	Opposition of the Cardinals and Romans	74
	On September the 19th the treaty of Cambrai announced in Rome. The Pope announces his intention of going to Bologna	75
	The Florentines send an envoy to Rome (September 22nd). Their obstinacy	76
	The Pope leaves Rome (October 7th). His route	77
	Wish of Charles to settle Italian affairs quickly, on account of the advance of the Turks	77
	A Florentine deputation meets the Pope at Cesena	78
	His solemn entry into Bologna on October the 24th.	78
	Holds a Consistory (October 29th) to make the preparations for the coronation. The Turks abandon the siege of Vienna	79
	Charles V. leaves Piacenza on November the 5th ; at Reggio meets Alfonso of Ferrara	80
	Makes his entry into Bologna on November the 5th	80
	Prodigality of the decorations	81
	Clement and Charles face to face	82
	Careful preparation made by Charles for his conference with the Pope	83
	Impression of Contarini. The Pope's advisers	84
	Clement VII. still distrustful of the Emperor	84
	Views regarding Milan, Ferrara, and Florence	85
	Sforza summoned to Bologna ; he is invested with Milan (December 3rd)	86
	Venice makes concessions	87
1530	Treaty of peace proclaimed in the Cathedral at Bologna on January the 6th	88
	The two points still left unsettled	89
	The Pope's irritation against Alfonso of Ferrara	89
	Reasons for the coronation taking place at Bologna rather than in Rome.	89

A.D.		PAGE
1530	The Pope confirms the election of Charles (February 22nd)	92
	The coronation takes place in the church of San Petronio (February 24th)	92
	Description of the ceremony	93
	Florence remaining stubborn, Clement makes two further concessions to Charles V.	96
	Appoints three Imperialist Cardinals	96
	And permits Alfonso of Ferrara to come to Bologna	97
	Influence of Charles V. over the Papal States	97
	Italian independence at an end. The Emperor is supreme	98
	Charles and Clement leave Bologna (March 22nd and 31st)	99
	The Pope impatient for the capitulation of Florence. Deplorable state of his finances	100
	"Would that Florence had never existed"	101
	Battle of Gavinana (August 3rd)	102
	At last Florence capitulates (August 12th)	103
	Savage reprisals of the Medicean party	104
	Clement VII. settles the government of the city	105

CHAPTER IV.

THE RELIGIOUS DIVISIONS IN GERMANY.

1523	Steady increase of Lutheranism	106
	Consistory of the 2nd of December	106
	Clement invites Eck and Aleander to furnish him with reports	107
	Aleander on the means to be employed to suppress heresy in Germany	107
	The report of an anonymous writer	108
	The Pope decides to appoint Campeggio as legate; sends Rorario (December) as Nuncio to prepare the way	109
	Aleander prepares instructions for the Legate	109
1524	Campeggio reaches Nuremberg on the 14th of March	111
	Popular feeling against him on the journey	111
	His great caution, and first speech in the Diet (March 17th)	112
	"The complaints of the German nation"	112
	The Estates demand a National Council	113
	Campeggio objects to this	113

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

xiii

A.D.		PAGE
1524	But promises to use his influence in favour of a General Council	114
	And holds an assembly at Ratisbon (June) for the reform of the national clergy	114
	Importance of this meeting. Ordinances published in a legatine decree (July 7th)	115
	Consultation of Clement VII. with the Cardinals	115
	Determination arrived at	116
	Charles V. prohibits the National Council and orders the observance of the Edict of Worms	116
1525	Campeggio's successes brought to an end by the out- break of the social revolution	117
	Delusion in Rome as to the real state of affairs	118
	Recall of Campeggio (October)	118
	His hopes soon shown to be entirely futile	119
	Absurd reports that obtain credence in Rome	119
	Even in Consistory (September 6th)	120
	Apostasy of the Grand Master of the Teutonic Order Consternation of the Pope	120
1526	Who appeals to King Sigismund and to the Emperor (January 31st)	121
	"Cujus regio illius religio." Development of the Lutheran State Church system	122
	Political troubles cause relations between Germany and Rome to be broken off	123
1529	Representation of the Holy See in Germany resumed Extraordinary alteration in state of affairs	123
	The protesting party appeal (April 25th) to a "free council"	124
1530	Charles V. appoints (January 21st) a diet to be held at Augsburg. He arrives at Innsbruck (May 3rd)	125
	Campeggio's letter to Rome of May the 4th	126
	A General Council or a National Council?	126
	Written opinion of Campeggio laid before the Emperor	127
	Opening of the Diet of Augsburg (June 20th)	127
	Speech of Campeggio (June 24th). The "Augsburg Confession" presented by the Protestants (June 25th)	128
	False reports of the decline of Lutheranism	129
	Optimism of the Roman Curia (July 10th)	129
	Campeggio reports the three Protestant demands	130
	Which are deliberated upon in Consistory, and rejected	130
	Opinions of Campeggio and of the Emperor's council on the treatment of the religious question	131

A.D.		PAGE
1530	His conversation with Charles V. on the subject of a General Council	132
	And declares a Council would be of no avail	132
	But advocates firmness of action	133
	The Emperor sends (July 14th) to Clement VII. a full account of the negotiations at Augsburg	133
	The Pope calls together the Cardinals to consider the question of a Council	134
	Did Clement VII. really wish for a Council? Opinion of Loaysa. Conduct of Cardinal de Gramont	135
	The Pope states the conditions under which he consents to summon a Council	136
	These conditions must be accepted by the Protestants	137
	Great differences of opinion in the Curia	137
	"God grant a reformation may not be brought about by the Turks instead of by a Council"	138
	Delusive hopes of Charles V.	139
	His discussion with Campeggio (September 23rd)	139
	The Protestant princes reject the Emperor's message and leave the Diet (September)	140

CHAPTER V.

NEGOTIATIONS AS TO THE COUNCIL, TO THE PACIFICATION OF NUREMBERG, 1532.

1530	The transactions of the Diet, followed with strained attention in Rome. The Pope willing to give way on two points	141
	All attempts at union miscarry—force the only resource	142
	The patience of Charles V. exhausted; he determines to punish	143
	And requests (October 4th) the Pope to invite other princes to co-operate with him	143
	Indecision of Clement VII. He ultimately calls on the Italian States to help	144
	They show no enthusiasm in the matter: Venice refuses	145
	The Emperor abandons the whole scheme	145
	And sends Cueva to Rome to renew the demand for a Council	146
	Arguments used by Charles in support of this request	147
	Clement VII. replies (November 18th) without com- mitting himself definitely	148

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

xv

A.D.		PAGE
1530	The "pros" and "cons" considered by the Cardinals	148
	The secret Consistory of the 28th of November . . .	149
	Opinion of Loaysa on the vote of the Cardinals. . .	149
	And on the aim of the Pope	150
	The Pope declares (December 6th) he has made up his mind to conform his opinion to that of Charles	150
	And sends Gambara on a mission to the Emperor . . .	151
	The six objections against a Council, presented by the Envoy	151
	And the five conditions attached by Clement to the convening of a Council	153
1531	Charles delays replying to the Legate until the 4th of April	154
	And thinks it necessary to sound Francis I.	154
	The sincerity of whom is very questionable	155
	The Emperor gives his answer touching the five conditions	156
	Gambara draws up a counter reply	157
	Clement agrees to summon the Council if the King of France consents (April 25th)	158
	The Cardinals determine that the Council be sum- moned for dealing with specific objects only . . .	159
	Unfavourable answer from the King of France . . .	159
	Cardinal Gramont arrives in Rome on May the 17th .	160
	His instructions show the intention of Francis I. to thwart the Council	160
	Charles expresses to the Pope his displeasure at the hindrances raised against it (July)	161
	And suspects Clement of a secret understanding with Francis I.	161
	The responsibility for the failure of the Council . . .	162
	The Emperor announces his intention of holding a Diet at Spire	163
	Campeggio of opinion that force is the only method to pursue with the heretics. Clement VII. in- clined to give way on three points, and is sup- ported by Cajetan	163
	Aleander appointed Nuncio to Germany (end of August)	163
	Clement recommends caution in regard to concessions The Diet postponed	164
	Aleander's interview with the Emperor on November the 14th	164
	False report of the reconciliation of the Elector of Saxony (November 15th)	165

A.D.		PAGE
1532	Clement assures the Emperor he is straining every nerve to ensure the Council (May)	166
	The League of Schmalkald	166
	The Diet opens at Ratisbon on April the 17th	166
	Fear of the Turks	166
	Efforts made at Rome to find some via media (April 19th)	167
	Indignation of the Nuncio at the Emperor's negotiations with the Protestants	167
	Memorial of Aleander denouncing the concessions (June 1st).	167
	The Catholic Estates blame the Emperor and demand a Council	168
	Charles attributes the delay to the King of France	168
	Division of opinion in Rome and Germany as to the policy to be pursued	169

CHAPTER VI.

CLEMENT VII.'S EFFORTS TO PROTECT CHRISTENDOM FROM THE TURKS

1523	Clement deals with the question of Hungary in his first Consistory (December 2nd)	170
1524	He sends Burgio as Nuncio to Hungary with a subsidy (April)	171
	Burgio's experiences. The country torn by party strife	172
	At Ofen (in August) he finds utter chaos, and appeals to deaf ears at the Diet	173
	The Turks take Severin	173
1525	Tomori and the Archbishop of Kalocsa alone faithful	174
	The former goes to the defence of Peterwardein (February)	174
	Gathering of the nobles at Hatvan (July 2nd)	175
	Zapolya and Verböczy overthrow the existing Government	175
	But nothing is done for the defence of the kingdom	175
1526	Alarming reports from Burgio (January)	176
	Clement urges the Christian princes to come to the aid of Hungary (February)	176
	Indolence of King Louis	177
	"The magnates are afraid of each other, and all are against the King"	177
	The Sultan sets out from Constantinople (April)	178

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

xvii

A.D.		PAGE
1526	The resolutions of Hatvan annulled and Verböczy deposed	178
	The Pope alone sends help. Fall of Peterwardein (July 28th)	179
	Disastrous defeat at Mohács (August 29th)	179
	Flight and death of King Louis	180
	The Sultan enters the capital (September 10th)	180
1527-8	Rival competitors for the Hungarian crown	181
1529	The Sultan sets out for the capture of Vienna (May). Measures taken by the Pope (August 27th)	182 183
	The Turks invest Vienna (September), but after a final assault (October 14th) withdraw	183
	Letter of Suleiman to the Venetians (November 10th)	184
1530	Increased military preparations of the Turks	185
	Speech of Clement VII. to the Ambassadors, who nearly all make excuses (June 24th)	185
	He again sends Briefs to the princes of Christendom (August)	186
	But all his efforts are unavailing	187
	The Pope and the Knights of St. John. Bestows Malta upon them (March 23rd).	188
1531	The Turkish difficulty "the only topic of conversa- tion" (February 20th)	189
	Peril to middle and lower Italy.	189
	The Pope endeavours to utilize the power of France	190
	And urges the necessity of raising funds	191
	Allegations against the house of Hapsburg	191
	Difficult position of Ferdinand's Ambassador	192
	The Pope promises a subsidy (September 16th)	192
	Intelligence of preparations by the Turks for attack on Italy and Hungary (December)	193
1532	Clement resolves to fortify the Papal seaports (January)	194
	Party strife in Hungary. Repeal of Zapolya's excom- munication refused by the Pope	194
	Refusal of the Venetians to interrupt the peace with the Turks.	195
	"The God of Venice is their own aggrandizement"	196
	Panic in Rome (March)	196
	Measures taken by the Pope	197
	Bad behaviour of King Francis I. His threats.	198
	The fortification of Ancona by Ant. da Sangallo	199
	Firmness of Clement in Consistory (June 21st). The Cardinals to be taxed	199
	Cardinal Ippolito de' Medici despatched to Germany	200

A.D.		PAGE
1532	The Sultan advances to the Austrian frontier, but has to fall back on Belgrade	201
	Maritime successes of Andrea Doria	202
	The hopes thus raised come to nothing	202
	The Italian soldiers refuse to go into Hungary	202
	And the Protestants object to strengthen the Catholic Ferdinand	203
	Charles V. decides on an interview with the Pope	203

CHAPTER VII.

CLEMENT THE SEVENTH'S SECOND MEETING WITH THE EMPEROR AT BOLOGNA.—THE CONCILIAR QUESTION IN THE YEARS 1532—1533.—THE POPE AND FRANCIS I. AT MARSEILLES.—THE MARRIAGE OF CATHERINE DE' MEDICI.

1532	Questions upon which Clement VII. and Charles V. are at variance	204
	Predominance of the Emperor in Italy	204
	Charles arrives in Italy (October). His anxiety to soothe the Pope	205
	He has but few adherents in Rome	205
	Character of Cardinal de Loaysa ; his quarrel with Mai	206
	Negotiations in 1531 about the creation of Cardinals	207
	Giberti refuses the Pope's proposal to recall him to his service	208
	Whatever Clement does, the rival parties complain	209
	He complains of the conduct of Loaysa	209
	Dissensions between the Emperor's representatives	210
1531	Tact of the French envoy, de Gramont	210
	Who tries to bring about an alliance between the houses of Valois and Medici	211
	The Pope, after long indecision, favours this project	211
	And consents to it by treaty of June the 9th, 1531	212
	But will not break with the Emperor, and evolves a scheme to reconcile Charles and Francis	213
1532	Cueva arrives in Rome (October) to arrange for the conference between the Pope and Charles	214
	Bologna fixed upon as the place of meeting	214
	Clement VII. leaves Rome on the 18th of November	215
	And arrives in Bologna on December the 8th	215
	Where Charles V. makes his entry on the 13th	216
	Eagerness of the Pope to reconcile Francis I. and Charles V.	217

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

xix

A.D.		PAGE
1533	Arrival of the French representatives (January) . . .	217
	The Emperor wishes Catherine de' Medici to marry Sforza	218
	When Francis I. at once ratifies the marriage contract with his son, and invites the Pope to meet him	218
	Treaty between the Pope and the Emperor signed on February the 24th	218
	Negotiations with the Italian envoys concluded (February 27th)	219
	Clement refuses to draw back from the French marriage agreement	219
	Creation of Cardinals. The Imperialists little pleased	220
	Negotiations and resolutions concerning the Council	221
	Briefs sent to the Christian princes inviting their consent	221
	Unsatisfactory reply from Francis I.	223
	Instruction drafted by Aleander for Rangoni, the Nuncio for Germany (February 27th)	223
	This contains eight conciliar conditions	223
	Charles agrees with the Pope's intentions and quits Bologna (February 28th)	224
	The Pope also leaves (March 10th)	224
	Agreement of Ferdinand and of George of Saxony (April and May)	224
	The Nuncio visits all the Electors	225
	Who on the whole give a ready consent	225
	Opinions of Melanchthon and Luther	226
	The Protestant princes demand a "free council"	226
	And reject the Pope's articles in offensive terms (June 30th)	226
	Clement VII. returns to Rome (April 3rd)	227
	Salviati sent to the relief of Koron	227
	Francis I. presses for a conference	227
	Continued enmity between the Emperor's envoys	228
	Cardinal Tournon turns this to advantage	228
	Opposition of the Curia to a conference with Francis	229
	But Clement refuses to withdraw	229
	Catherine de' Medici starts on her journey (September 1st)	230
	Departure of the Pope (September 9th). He avoids Florence	231
	Makes his entry into Marseilles on October the 12th.	232

A.D.		PAGE
1533	On the 28th marries Catherine de' Medici to the Duke of Orleans	232
	Nomination of French Cardinals (November 7th)	233
	Secrecy of the transactions with Francis I.	234
	Falseness of the accusations against Clement	235
	Who is deceived by Francis	236
	The Pope's exhortations to a reconciliation with Charles X. fail	236
	Substantial success for Francis I.	236
	Transactions about the Council	236
	Pliability of Clement, who returns to Rome (November)	237

CHAPTER VIII.

THE DIVORCE OF HENRY VIII. AND THE ENGLISH SCHISM.

	Separation of England from the Holy See not like that of Germany	238
	Character of Henry VII. His work	238
	Popularity of his successor, Henry VIII.	239
	Exceptional position of Wolsey. His leniency to heretics	239
	Henry VIII. no convert to Luther	240
	Marriage of Henry with Catherine of Aragon	240
	Her character	241
	Henry's early adulterous relations	241
1526	His scruples about the validity of his marriage	241
	Anne Boleyn. Her protectors are enemies of Wolsey	242
	Who hope for his downfall by means of the divorce	243
	Wolsey not the originator of the divorce scheme	243
	Henry's cunning dishonesty	243
1527	Words attributed to the French Ambassador	244
	Wolsey initiated for the first time (May 8th)	244
	With Warham holds a court of justice (May 17th)	245
	Opinions invited from Bishops and Canonists	245
	Fisher's reply causes Wolsey to reflect	245
	Wolsey dare not oppose Henry.	246
	Brutal order to Catherine (June 22nd). Her reply	246
	Wolsey starts for France (July 3rd)	247
	Tries to win over Warham and Fisher	247
	Wolsey's project of marriage for Henry (August)	248
	Wishes to be made Papal Vicar-General (September)	248
	Mission of Knight to Rome	249
	Wolsey kept in ignorance of its real object	249

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

xxi

A.D.		PAGE
1527	He hurries back to England, and at last perceives Anne Boleyn's position	249
	And implores Henry to depart from his resolve	250
	The King again deceives Wolsey	250
	The two drafts for a Bull of dispensation carried by Knight to Rome	250
	The Bull given (December 23rd) to Knight by the Pope is conditional only	251
	And therefore valueless	251
	Five points raised by Henry to invalidate the dis- pensation of Julius II.	252
	The Decretal Bull which Wolsey asks for	253
	Unheard-of powers demanded for Wolsey	253
	Knight and Casale unsuccessful	254
	Two fresh envoys from England, Gardiner and Fox	254
1528	Their negotiations with the Pope (March and April).	255
	Insolence of Gardiner's demands	255
	But Clement VII. not to be shaken	256
	No justification for the charge against the Pope.	256
	Bull of Commission (June 8th) to Wolsey and Campeggio. Powers conferred by it.	257
	Wolsey not satisfied	258
	His last effort to obtain the Decretal Bull	259
	And to deceive the Pope	259
	Who promises to send it by Campeggio	260
	The Bull, withheld from the free disposal of Henry and Wolsey, is rendered useless	261
	Campeggio arrives in England. His audiences with Henry and Catherine (October 22nd and 27th).	262
	Wolsey dissatisfied. His falsehood	263
	The Pope remains firm and refuses to do more. His declaration about the Decretal Bull (December 17th)	264
	Catherine produces the Brief of Dispensation of the 26th of December 1503	265
	Wolsey's attempts to nullify this	266
1529	Important letter from Campeggio to Salviati (Feb- ruary 18th)	267
	Wolsey makes a last attempt for an extension of his legatine powers.	268
	The court of the Legates constituted (May 31st)	268
	The pleading is on one side only. Courage of Bishop Fisher	269
	Campeggio on the 23rd of July adjourns the court	269
	The case transferred to Rome. Departure of Campeggio	270

A.D.		PAGE
1529	Downfall of Wolsey (October)	270
1530	His arrest and death (November)	271
	Wolsey as a statesman and as a churchman	272
	Rise of Cranmer. Mission of Anne Boleyn's father to the Pope and the Emperor	273
	Opinions of the universities	274
	Address to the Pope by the English prelates and nobles	275
	The proposal of the "double marriage" (September)	275
	Henry's violent complaints to the Pope (December)	277
1531	The convocation of the English clergy (January)	278
	Catherine banished from court (August)	279
1532	Clement VII. remonstrates with Henry (January)	279
	Meeting between Henry VIII. and Francis I. at Boulogne (October)	280
	The Pope threatens excommunication	280
	Henry's retort	281
1533	His marriage with Anne Boleyn (January)	281
	Cranmer becomes Archbishop of Canterbury (March)	282
	And declares Henry's marriage with Catherine to be null and void (May 23rd)	282
	Excommunication of Henry VIII.	283
1534	Anti-Papal Acts of Parliament	284
	Final sentence of the Pope (March 24th)	285
	Pusillanimity of the English clergy	286
	Oppressive measures of Henry	286
	An "outburst of despotic caprice and adulterous passion." Its result	287

CHAPTER IX

THE PROTESTANT REVOLT IN SCANDINAVIA AND SWITZERLAND.
—HERETICAL MOVEMENTS AMONG THE LATIN RACES.

1523	Frederick I. and Gustavus Wasa encourage Lutheran teaching	288
	The capitulation of the 3rd of August at the election of Frederick. Its anti-papal decrees	289
1526	Tausen appointed as chaplain to the King (October)	289
	The Diet of Odense (November)	290
1530	Lutheran preachers present a Confession of Faith at the Diet of Copenhagen	290
	They are supported by Frederick	291
1533	Death of Frederick (April 10th). Want of energy by the bishops during the interregnum	291
1525	Gustavus Wasa introduces Lutheranism into Sweden	291

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

xxiii

A.D.		PAGE
1525	His system of spoliation	292
	Five sees uncanonically occupied. Johann Brask stands alone	292
	The revolt in Dalekarlien quelled by the King	293
1526	Clement VII. addresses (September 19th) the bishops of Linköping and Vesterås	293
	Catholics in Sweden completely cowed	294
1527	Execution of Knut and Sunnanväder	294
	The Diet of Vesterås (June). Weakness of the bishops, except Brask	294
	Complete surrender to the King. Exile of Brask (November)	295
1528	Schismatical consecration of bishops (January 5th)	295
1529	National Council at Örebro	295
1531	Worldliness and servility of the clergy	296
	Ease with which Gustavus Wasa destroyed the ancient Church	296
1523	Rise of Ulrich Zwingli in Switzerland	297
1525	The Pope sends Filonardi to Switzerland (February). Failure of his mission	298
	The Curia pay little attention to the Church affairs in that country	298
1531	Defeat of the Zurichers at Kappel (October 11th). Death of Zwingli	299
	Papal relief comes too late. The Catholic cantons make peace with Zurich (November 20th)	300
1532	The reports of Filonardi (July)	301
1533	His recall (October 17th)	301
1523	Activity of the Lutherans in France	302
1525	Firmly opposed by the Sorbonne and Parliament	302
1528	Catholic feeling in Paris	303
1529	Execution of L. de Becquin (April)	303
1534	Doubtful attitude of Francis I.	304
	Impediments to the diffusion of Protestantism in Italy	305
1519-20	First appearance of Luther's writings in Upper Italy	306
1524-28	Vigilance of the Pope	307
1530	His decree to the Inquisitor Butigella (January 15th) Protestant tendencies in Geneva	308
1528-30	Luther's followers in Venice	309
1532	Memorial from Carafa to the Pope (October)	310
	Carafa draws up a programme for reform of the clergy	312
1533	Is warmly supported by Aleander (March)	313
	Outside Venice, only isolated Lutherans to be found	315

CHAPTER X.

THE CLOSE OF THE PONTIFICATE OF CLEMENT VII.—HIS POSITION TOWARDS LITERATURE AND ART.

A.D.		PAGE
1533	Return of Clement VII. from Marseilles	316
	Is viewed with suspicion by the Imperialists	316
	Spread of anti-papal feeling in Germany	317
	State of Bohemia	317
	Strange attitude of the Pope and the Curia	318
	Inadequate support of deserving Catholic scholars	319
	Craftiness of the King of France	319
1534	Who supports the Landgrave of Hesse	320
	And misleads the Pope	320
	Clement VII. refuses to support Ferdinand (June)	321
	And determines to defer the Council	321
	Bitterness aroused in Germany by this	321
	Clement VII. taken ill (June)	322
	Changes in his condition. Deaths among the Cardinals	323
	The Pope has a renewed attack (August 18th). Receives extreme unction (August 24th)	324
	Rallies on September the 8th. Is visited by Giberti	325
	His death on September the 25th	326
	Up to the last is occupied with the prospects of his nephews. His Brief to the Emperor	327
	Description of his tomb	327
	Clement VII. quickly forgotten in Rome	328
	Severity of contemporary judgments upon him	329
	Not altogether fair. His character	329
	His absorption in the interests of his family	331
	And his temporizing and dilatory policy	331
	His conduct of English affairs	332
	In all great questions his policy breaks down	333
1523	Delight in literary circles at the election of Clement VII.	334
	His earliest secretaries	335
	His measures to increase the Vatican Library	336
1526	The mission of Johann Heitmers	336
	Relations of Clement with Erasmus	337
	Sannazaro and Vida	338
	Services rendered by Guicciardini to the Pope	339
	Clement VII. and Machiavelli	340
	Agnolo Firenzuola—Francesco Berni	340
	Quarrel between Berni and Aretino	341
	The latter banished from Rome	342
	The number of literati associated with Clement	342

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

XXV

A.D.		PAGE
1526	Disastrous consequences of the sack for art and literature	345
	At the election of Clement artists flock to Rome	346
	Cellini, Giulio Romano, and others	346
	The decoration of the Stanze resumed	347
	The work of Penni	348
	Giulio Romano and his pupils	349
	Experiences of artists during the sack	350
1530-31	Giovanni da Udine and Sebastiano del Piombo	350
	The illuminator, Giulio Clovio	351
	The works at St. Peter's	351
	The "Fabbrica di S. Pietro." Peruzzi appointed architect for life	352
	Completion of the court of St. Damasus	353
	Works at castle of St. Angelo	353
	Restorations in many churches. Construction of streets	354
	Quick revival of the city after the sack	355
	Fortifications in the States of the Church	355
	Clement's patronage of goldsmiths' work	356
	Benvenuto Cellini	357
	Medallists and workers in intaglio	358
	Works of sculpture in Rome	359
	And on the Holy House at Loreto	359
	Baccio Bandinelli's work at Florence	360
	Michael Angelo and Clement VII.	361
	The painting of the Last Judgment suggested by Clement	363

CHAPTER XI.

CLEMENT VII. AND THE INTERNAL AFFAIRS OF THE CHURCH.
—HIS ATTITUDE TOWARDS THE QUESTIONS OF THE COUNCIL AND REFORM.

	The converts of the New World	364
	Two hundred friars sent to the East Indies	365
1524	Creation of the Patriarchate of the West Indies (May 11th)	365
1530-31	And of other Sees	365
1524-28	Negotiations with Russia	366
	Clement VII. and the Maronites and Armenians	367
	Embassy from the King of Æthiopia	367
	The Jubilee of 1525. Regulations for it	368
	The Passion Play in the Colosseum	369

A.D.	PAGE
1524-28	Protestants ridicule the Jubilee.	369
	Beatification of saints	369
	The Rosary encouraged. Special Bulls of this time .	370
	Clement obliged to make concessions to temporal princes	371
	The Inquisition in Portugal. The Pope protects the Jewish Christians against the King	371
	"Clement, the gracious friend of Israel"	372
	Disputes with Venice about bishoprics	373
	Appointments to the Cardinalate. Ruling motives in Clement's creations	374
	Political character of these appointments	375
	Manner of life of the Cardinals.	377
1524	Clement VII. on the reform of the Curia (January) .	378
	His three administrative proposals (September) . .	378
	Appoints a visitation commission. Urges the observ- ance of the Lateran decrees	379
	Decree against vagrant Minorites	380
	Instructions to Carafa concerning candidates for holy orders	380
	Enactments for reform of the clergy in many dioceses	380
1525	And of the Carmelites and Humiliati	381
	But these measures lay almost dormant. The cause of this	382
	Things drift back into a contrary course	384
	The demand for a Council. Clement shrinks from this	385
	His objections to a Council. The recollection of Constance and Basle.	386
	The influence of the Emperor and of Francis I. . .	387
	Painful feelings aroused by the Pope's attitude . .	387

CHAPTER XII.

THE BEGINNINGS OF THE CATHOLIC REFORMATION.—THE ORATORY OF THE DIVINE LOVE.—GAETANO DI TIENE AND CARAFA.

True reformers always to be found in the Church . .	388
The work of Ximenes in Spain	388
The one thing lacking to the Lateran decrees . . .	389
Yet when all seems lost a change begins in perfect quiet	389
Rise of the Oratory of the Divine Love (c. 1517) . .	390
Its unpretentious beginnings and main principles . .	391
Strong Catholic feeling of its members	391

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

xxvii

A.D.		PAGE
	Raphael and the Oratory	392
	The "Confraternità della Carità" (founded in 1519 by Clement VII. when a Cardinal)	393
	Is endowed by Clement VII. with the church of S. Girolamo	394
	Many officials of the Papal household members of it	394
1524	Valerio Lugio describes its work	394
	Rise of other institutions	395
	Increase in members of the Oratory of Divine Love. Some of its most illustrious associates	395
	Sets an example to other Italian cities	396
	And causes a revival of spiritual life	397
	Gives rise to the Theatine Order	397
	Gaetano di Tiene, his birth (1480) and early life	398
	His work in Vicenza, Verona, and Venice	399
1523	His return to Rome and intercourse with Carafa	400
	Different characters of the two men	401
	Birth (1476) and early life of Gian Pietro Carafa	402
	Made bishop of Chieti (1504) and Nuncio to Naples (1506)	403
	Labours to set his diocese in order	404
	Sent to England (1513), and Nuncio to Spain (1515)	404
	Great importance of his residence in Spain	405
	His intercourse with Ximenes and Adrian of Utrecht	405
	His occupations on his return from Naples (1520)	406
	Adrian VI. calls him to Rome. The impression he makes	406
	His close intimacy with members of the Oratory of the Divine Love	407
	With Gaetano matures plans for founding the Theatines	408
	Fundamental ideas of the founders	408
	Opposition and difficulties. Carafa resigns his two sees	410
1524	Papal Brief founding the new Order (June 24th)	410
	Gaetano and Carafa distribute their property and take solemn vows (September 14th)	411
	Carafa chosen Superior. Manner of life of the Theatines	412
1525	Deep impression they make in Rome	413
	And the change wrought by their quiet labours	414
	Tommaso Campeggio and Carafa	415
1527	At the sack of Rome the Theatines escape to Venice	415
	Their life in Venice. Relations with Contarini, Pole, and Cortese	416
1530-33	Rules of the Order drawn up by Carafa	416
1533	Clement VII. enjoins the erection of a house in Naples	417
	Strictness in the reception of new members	418

A.D.		PAGE
1533	The Order a "Seminary for bishops"	418
	The Pope encourages the Theatines. Carafa is in- defatigable	419
	His correspondence with Bishops	420
	Important position he acquires in Venice	420
	Where he combats heresy	421
	His reports of abuses among the clergy	422
	And unprincipled titular bishops	423
	Corruption of the religious orders. All need regenera- tion, especially the Franciscans	423

CHAPTER XIII

GIAN MATTEO GIBERTI.—THE SOMASCHI AND THE BARNABITES.

	Early piety of Gian Matteo Giberti (born 1495)	424
	Enjoys the friendship of Leo X. and Cardinal Medici	425
	His relations with the humanists, especially Vida	425
	Clement VII. appoints him Datary	425
1524	And Bishop of Verona (August). His irreproachable conduct	426
	His intimacy with Carafa and loyal devotion to the Pope	427
1528	Withdraws to his diocese. State of things he en- counters there	428
	Begins the task of reform. Change in his char- acter. Embraces a strict asceticism	429
	Report of the change in Verona (November)	430
1529	Undertakes the visitation of his diocese	430
	His mode of procedure	431
	And stringent enactments	432
	Regulations for confessors, even in externals	433
1530	Strong edict on preaching (April 10th)	433
	His visitation of the religious orders. Clement VII. gives him special powers	434
1531	His regulations for nunneries confirmed by the Doge of Venice	435
	Difficulties with his Chapter. Their stubbornness	435
	Conflicts with the corrupt clergy. He receives steady support from the Pope	436
	Social activity of Giberti	437
	Founds the Society of Charity to cope with mendicancy	438
	His only recreation is study	439
	The "Accademia Gibertina." His private printing press	439

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

xxix

A.D.		PAGE
1531	Many other prelates follow his example	440
	Revival of Synods in Italy and in other countries	441
	Popular character of the Catholic reformation begun by Giberti	442
	The distresses of the time give it an impetus	442
	The sack marks the end of the Renaissance	443
	"A world had disappeared; a new one had to arise"	443
	Admission by Pierio Valeriano	444
	Sadoleto on the gleam of a new dawn	445
	Speech of Stafleo on the reassembling of the Rota on May 15th, 1528	446
	The sack had "cleared the air"	446
	Misery and distress in Lombardy	447
	The Venetian noble Girolamo Miani (born 1481)	448
	Becomes a priest (1518). His labours in the year of famine and plague (1528)	448
	His work among the poor children. Supported by the Venetian government	449
	Orphanages founded in Brescia and Bergamo	449
	The Somaschi; their special characteristics	449
	Miani extends the work into the Milanese territory	450
	Tommaso Nieto introduces a procession of the Bl. Sacrament	450
	Antonio Maria Zaccaria (born 1502) goes to Milan	451
1530	Joins the confraternity of the Eternal Compassion	451
1533	Founds the Barnabite Order	451
	Constitutions and manner of living of its members	452
	In what they differ from the Theatines	452

CHAPTER XIV.

REFORM OF THE OLDER ORDERS.—THE CAPUCHINS.

1517-23	Paolo Giustiniani and the Camaldolese Hermits	454
	Egidio Canisio and the Augustinian Hermits	455
	The Benedictine reform of S. Justina, and Gregorio Cortese	455
	Efforts at the reform of Franciscan Observants	455
1525	The "Riformati" supported by Quiñones	456
	Opposed by the General, Pisotti	457
1532	Clement VII. issues a Bull in their favour (November)	457
	Rise of Matteo da Bascio (b. 1495, d. 1552)	457
	His early life and entry into the Observants	458
1523	His self-denying activity at Camerino attracts the attention of Caterina Cibo	459

A.D.		PAGE
1523	His strict observance of the rule. Change in the habit	460
1525	Goes to Rome. His petition to Clement VII.	460
	The Provincial orders him to be incarcerated	461
	Is set free and joined by Lodovico and Raffaello da Fossombrone	462
	They are empowered to set up houses of their Order .	463
1528	The Brief confirming the new branch of Franciscans (Capuchins)	464
	Foundation of the first houses	465
	Bernardino da Colpetrazzo's account of their manner of life	466
	They are "preachers of repentance" to the common people	467
1528-29	Their heroic self-sacrifice during the plague	467
1529	The first General Chapter at Alvacina	468
	Matteo da Bascio chosen Vicar-General	469
	Constitutions of the new institute	469
	First Capuchin settlement in Rome	470
	Rapid extension of the new community	470
	Opposition of the Observants	471
	Unreflecting zeal of Lodovico	471
1532	Papal decision (August 14th) in favour of the Capuchins	472
1534	Ochino and Bernardino of Asti join them	473
	The Observants again complain to the Pope	473
	The Capuchins banished from Rome (April)	474
	Indignation of the Roman people at this	475
	Action of Vittoria Colonna and Caterina Cibo	475
	Clement VII. sanctions the return of the Capuchins .	476
	Ignatius Loyola at Montmartre begins the Society of Jesus	476